

About technologyMAG

technologyMAG – Connecting Technology, Manufacturing and Industrial Innovation

In today's rapidly evolving industrial landscape, technology is reshaping the way products are designed, manufactured, transported and consumed. Advanced manufacturing, automation, artificial intelligence, robotics, clean energy, digital transformation and sustainable production are no longer future concepts - they are driving the competitiveness of industries worldwide.

technologyMAG was established as a professional platform dedicated to Industrial Technology, Manufacturing, and Engineering, providing industry professionals with reliable information, market intelligence, and practical insights into emerging technologies and industrial developments.

Our mission is to connect technology providers, manufacturers, engineers, researchers, policymakers and industry leaders through high-quality editorial content that supports innovation, technology adoption and sustainable industrial growth.

Our Vision

To become one of Asia's leading industrial technology media platforms, connecting innovation, manufacturing and business opportunities while contributing to the modernization and sustainable development of industry.

Our Mission

To bridge technology, industry and knowledge by delivering trusted information, facilitating technology exchange and supporting collaboration among businesses, research institutions, government agencies and industrial communities.

Who technologyMAG Serves technologyMAG is designed for professionals and organizations involved in every aspect of industrial development, including:

- Manufacturers and industrial enterprises
- Machinery, equipment and technology suppliers

More Than an Industry e-Magazine

technologyMAG is more than an e-magazine.

We are building an Industrial Technology Knowledge & Business Platform that connects technology developers, equipment manufacturers, solution providers, industrial users, investors, and decision-makers throughout the industrial ecosystem.

Beyond publishing news, we actively support:

- Technology promotion
- Product launches
- Industrial marketing
- Business networking
- Technology transfer
- Industry collaboration
- Knowledge sharing
- Market development
- International business cooperation

Our objective is to transform technology information into real business opportunities and meaningful industrial partnerships.

Supporting Industrial Innovation

For technology companies and equipment manufacturers, technologyMAG provides an effective channel to:

- Introduce new technologies and industrial solutions
- Enhance corporate visibility and brand reputation
- Reach qualified industrial buyers and decision-makers
- Promote machinery, equipment and engineering services
- Support product launches and innovation campaigns
- Showcase successful industrial applications
- Expand business opportunities in Vietnam and across Asia

Through our digital platform, industry newsletter, technical features and professional networking activities, technologyMAG helps bridge the gap between innovation and industrial application.

Knowledge Drives Industrial Growth

Industrial development depends not only on investment in machinery but also on access to knowledge, experience and innovation.

technologyMAG believes that sharing reliable information and connecting the right people can accelerate technology adoption, improve manufacturing productivity and strengthen industrial competitiveness.

Our goal is to help businesses make informed decisions while contributing to a smarter, more innovative and more sustainable industrial future.

Partner With Us

We welcome collaboration with:

- Technology developers
- Machinery manufacturers
- Engineering companies
- Industrial solution providers
- Research institutions
- Universities
- Government agencies
- Industry associations
- Trade fair organizers
- Professional experts
- Investors and innovation ecosystems.

Together, we can build a stronger industrial community by connecting knowledge, technology and business across Vietnam, Asia and the global manufacturing landscape.

technologyMAG - Industrial Technology Intelligence

Connecting Innovation • Manufacturing • Industry

Delivering trusted industrial insights that inspire innovation, support business growth and shape the future of manufacturing.
